How much do child labourers make a day in Pakistan?

Child labourers were highly valued in the Pakistani carpet industry because their tiny fingers allow them to make small, tight knots, resulting in high quality carpets. However, this is not reflected in their pay, with Masih working twelve hours a day, every day, with only a half hour break, all for only one rupee a day.

Why was Masih a child labourer?

With the interest constantly increasing on the loan, Masih was sent, aged just four, to work as a carpet weaver to pay off the debt. Child labourers were highly valued in the Pakistani carpet industry because their tiny fingers allow them to make small, tight knots, resulting in high quality carpets.

Born in a prominent political family, she was exposed to political thoughts and beliefs since a young age. The imprisonment and the subsequent execution of her father, Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, brought Benazir into the centre stage of Pakistan politics as she succeeded her father as the titular head of the Pakistan People's Party.

Malala Yousafzai, Pakistani activist who, while a teenager, spoke out against the Tehrik-e-Taliban Pakistan's ban on the education of girls. She gained global attention when she survived an assassination attempt at age 15. In 2014 Yousafzai won a share of the Nobel Prize for Peace, becoming the youngest Nobel laureate.
